“Behind the Scenes at the Venice Biennale”

ART AND SOCIAL ACTIVISM
Baltimore, Maryland and Venice, Italy
June 2-June 10, 2017
Behind the Scenes at the Venice Biennale...

...is a collaborative program organized by the Baltimore Museum of Art and Johns Hopkins University. Students will spend one week at the Biennale (a world renowned contemporary exhibit) meeting artists, activists, curators and exhibit professionals to explore the nexus between contemporary art and social activism in global and community contexts.

The program will be led by Dr. Elizabeth Rodini (JHU), Mr. Christopher Bedford (BMA), and Mr. Mark Bradford (MacArthur Genius Award).

Designed for underrepresented students in the arts, the program strives to provide insight into the roles of art and to encourage students to consider careers in the arts, museums, and community arts programming.
