TO THE FACULTY SPONSOR:

The above-named student is petitioning to study abroad or use university funds to conduct research or an internship at a site currently under a travel warning issued by the U.S. government (attached). The University prohibits undergraduate study or university-funded projects in sites under a travel warning.

According to University policy, any student who seeks to go abroad for Johns Hopkins academic credit, affiliated with Johns Hopkins, or using Johns Hopkins award monies despite the warning must petition the Provost. The petition must be written and must include a statement of support from the student’s faculty sponsor.

Using your departmental stationery, please share your opinion about why study abroad, research, internship or other university-funded project at the site chosen by this student is or is not integral to completing his or her academic program. You may add comments about the student’s past academic performance and strengths and weaknesses, as may be relevant. You should include any knowledge you have of the safety and security situation in the student’s desired study location.

Finally, please sign this form on the appropriate line below, enclose it with your letter in a sealed envelope, and give it to your Dean.

Declaration: I have read the Johns Hopkins Policy on study abroad in sites under a travel warning as well as the current U.S. government travel warning for the site proposed by the above-named student. I support the student’s petition for the reasons cited in the accompanying letter.
